Benjamin Franklin is Coming
January 29, 2010
2:30 p.m. in the Amphitheater

Mobile Ed Productions presents Benjamin Franklin, an amazing inventor, author, printer, politician and founding father who enlightens young and old alike.

The presentation is a one-man production using incredible props, a beautiful set, music, stories, interaction, authentic costuming, and the character of Ben Franklin. The presenter's amazing likeness of this great American helps students immediately identify the character. From the moment he walks on stage the audience feels they are in the presence of living history.

Students will have fun participating in "old time" typesetting as they hear of Ben's early years as an apprentice in his brother's print shop. They will also hear both familiar and unfamiliar quotes from Poor Richard's Almanac. Of course, the famous kite and key experiment will be relived by using a Van de Graff generator to the amazement and amusement of the students.

Benjamin Franklin will stir the patriotism of students and faculty as he closes the program with the moving account of his involvement in the birth of our nation.

The Covenant School is holding an Open House for its upper school (7th grade and up) on Tuesday, January 12 at 7:00 pm.
